

THE MORE THINGS CHANGE, THE MORE THEY STAY THE SAME.

We may have a new look, but Isotopes Canada continues to build on the technology, expertise and exceptional service that is the foundation of our company.

Since our start in 1981, we've worked with energy companies of all sizes providing tracing, mud labelling and corresponding laboratory services. Our clients respect our experience, proven safety and quality track record of delivering exceptional value to hundreds of customers.

Using our exclusive tracer formulation, we gather information and insights that lead to increased earning, improved operations and reduced expenditures. At a time when producers have to vigilantly watch costs and monitor return on investment, we can help them become more efficient and effective.

Proven experience and longevity in the industry has built trust and confidence with our clients, but we also embrace change and evolution.

"We have been in business for almost 40 years and much like the energy sector, there have been many changes during that time so we need to stay relevant and innovative. Our new branding not only incorporates the success and experience of our past, but it has also captures our future," says Todd Dyer, President and CEO.
